TEN MARION COUNTY FARMERS ARE INCLUDED

In Seventy-Eight Qualified for Seed Certification.

Ten Marion county farmers are included in the seventy-eight wheat growers of Ohio announced in Columbus yesterday as being among the first completely to have qualified seed for certification. In all, 17,500 bushels of wheat has now been certified in the state. Of this, 12,500 bushels is Trumbull and 4,200 Gladden.

Marion county now has certified 755 bushels of seed wheat for the fall planting, all Trumbull. The growers now listed as successful in passing field inspection and inspection of threshed grain are: Denzer brothers, C. W. Baldinger, H. G Rengert, S W. Allmendinger and Lawrence Mantz, Marion; A. B LaRue, Laltuc; J. H. Nickelson, Prospect, F P. Berringer and Clem Retterer, Waldo.

A complete list of certified growers can not be issued until all samples of threshed grain have been received and examined, say crop specialist of the Ohio State university, conducting certification examinations While it is anticipated that a third less wheat will pass the test this year than in 1920, the extension specialists hope that a total of at least 50,000 bushels of pure seed, certified from line varieties as true to type and free from weed mixture will be available this fall.

Certification work has been conducted by the Ohio Seed Improvement association and the state college of agriculture, cooperating.

COUNCIL WANTS STREET RAILWAY IMPROVEMENT

Or a Return to Fare of Five Cents

MOTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED LAST NIGHT

West Center Street Residents Ask That Erie Railroad Abate Nuisance of Water Hole.

At the meeting of the city council, Monday evening, the matter of street car service was discussed and was followed by the mayor and solicitor being instructed to wait on the management of the C., D. & M. Electric company to have the company return to the old fare of five cents for a single ride and six tickets for a quarter, or else better the city car service in accordance with the provisions of the contract.

The motion to this effect was made by T. E. Hunter and carried unanimously.

A plea was presented to council by W. K. Shafer and C. W. Bartram, residents of west Center street, to compel the Erie Railroad company to abate nuisance of a water hole along the new eastbound main track. The men claim that after hard rains the water runs over on their premises and does considerable damage. This was referred to the solicitor and city engineer.

A deed for a strip of land to the city by George B Scofield and Ada W. Scofield for widening south Prospect street was accepted

Fred H. Morrison, by the passing of a resolution, was granted the right to install a gasolene station at No. 597 Silver street.

The report of Mayor T. E. Andrews for the month of July showed that the sum of $983 was collected in licenses and fines in city cases.

GREAT NIGHT TO SLEEP— OUTSIDE SKUNK ZONE

Anyhow, It's Delightful Weather Marion Is Having.

Marion not only occupies a delightful place in the garden spot of the world, but it is an enchanted place.

Stand erect, fill your lungs to the brim with that deliciously-cool morning air—and defy the world.

Never since the memory of man started to function have there been more wonderful first days of August than these.

But—now, be reasonable and hold your temper—it's awful when you happen to set within range of a skunk that makes his zone in the neighborhood of your sleeping apartment.

Last night was skunk night again down in the hollow on the South side.

Men and women were restless the big end of the night. And it was such a great night to sleep, too.

BRIAND MAY NOT BE PRESENT

Regarded Certain He Will Not Attend Conference.

DECISION HINGES ON LLOYD GEORGE

Briand May Change Mind If British Premier Attends.

Chairs in England and Ireland Interfere with Desire of English Chief To Have a Part in Washington Meet.

Paris, Aug. 9.—Premier Briand is not in favor of attending the Washington conference in person and it is regarded as a virtual certainty, today, that he would not go to Washington if Premier Lloyd George remains at home and sends a delegate in his stead. The flurry over the reported Lloyd George statement that he was not going to attend the conference in person and the subsequent denial overshadowed even supreme council matters for a few moments and it was not until today that the incident was cleared up.

The French and British premiers had discussed the matter and M Briand evidently thought he had converted Lloyd George to his view with the result that French news agencies received the tip that the British premier was not going to Washington. The news agency was instructed, however, not to mention their source of information.

The Havas agency, therefore, announced that Lloyd George had made a statement to the American correspondents that he had decided not to attend the Harding conference.

The British premier received his first information that the Havas agency was carrying a statement of his intention of remaining away from the Washington conference from an International News correspondent. The correspondent found the British premier while he was conferring with George Harvey, the American ambassador to England.

Premier Lloyd George was extremely angry. He turned to Ambassador Harvey and exclaimed: "That is entirely untrue. The question of the personnel of the British delegation is as yet undecided."

Later, Lloyd George's secretary demanded an explanation from the Havas agency.

Press in Doubt.

London, Aug. 9.—The British press was frankly "up in the air," today, as to whether Premier Lloyd George will attend in person the Far East and armament-limitation conference in Washington, in November.

Commenting upon despatches from Paris denying a report that the premier had decided not to go to Washington, the most of the newspapers assumed there was still a possibility that Mr. Lloyd George would go to Washington.

The London Times and the Daily Mail pointed out that the contradictory information from Paris indicated that the premier is uncertain in his own mind whether he will attend the conference, because he foresees the possibility of a general election in England in the autumn.

There is still another element of the situation which must be considered. If the Sinn Fein accepts the English peace offer, a general Irish peace parley will be held in this city to be followed by a session of British parliament to debate the "Irish treaty" and ratify it. The premier would wish to be in London for both.

Crop Estimates.

Washington Aug 9.—The condition of the corn crop, August 1, was 84.3, indicating a total production of 3,032,000,000 bushels and a yield of 27.8 bushels an acre, the crop reporting board of the bureau of markets and crop estimates announced this afternoon.

TAX REVISION PROGRESSING

Wearing Apparel Tax Is Now Believed Doomed.

LEVIES ON FOUNTAIN DRINKS ELIMINATED

Decision of House Ways-and-Means Committee Reported Reached on Some Items.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Agreement to eliminate taxes on fountain drinks and ice cream and the so-called luxury tax on wearing apparel is reported to have been reached by Republican members of the house ways and means committee, sitting in executive session. A reduction of one-half the 10 per cent levy on sporting goods also is said to have been agreed upon.

The total loss of revenue from these proposed changes would be slightly less than $30,000,000, and the reductions are the first to be passed upon by the majority members in their efforts to carry out the announced program of Republican house leaders to cut $500,000,000 from the nation's tax bill.

There was a suggestion that the committee appoint a delegation to go over the whole schedule frankly with President Harding and Secretary Mellon, with a view to obtaining their counsel as well as urging that the executive departments hold down rigidly on expenditures.

Estimates before the committee were said to have contemplated cuts of approximately $570,000,000 in probable expenditures for the fiscal year, leaving the total at $3,905,000,000. Reductions proposed included $75,000,000 for the army, $57,000,000 for the navy, $100,000,000 for the shipping board and $245,000,000 for the railroads. Tax reductions totaled $720,000,000.

The net loss in government revenue this fiscal year on this basis would be $458,000,000 if the repeal of the excess profits and higher income surtaxes was made retroactive to last Jan. 1.

AN INSANITY PLEA WILL BE ENTERED

In Case of Nurse Who Kills Attorney in Brooklyn.

New York, Aug. 9.—The case against Olivia M. P. Stone, Cincinnati nurse charged with the murder in Brooklyn, last Friday, of Ellis G. Kinkead, her alleged common-law husband, was adjourned today, until next Thursday, the prosecution announcing that it was not yet ready to proceed.

The woman was extremely nervous and seemingly in a trance. Abraham H. Kesselman, her attorney, indicated that the defense would be based on temporary insanity.

"She did not realize what she was doing," he said, "and was not in full possession of her senses for two days following the shooting. It all seems like a moving-picture reel to her. She now realizes the seriousness of her predicament. She continually moans and weeps in her cell and seems to be all broken up."

After her arraignment, Miss Stone was taken back to her cell in the Raymond street jail, Brooklyn.

Nauvoo, Ala., Aug. 9.—William Edmonds is in a critical condition and his brother, Rev. Albert Edmonds, is seriously ill from the bite of a snake, said to have been used in a religious service near here. Rev. Mr. Edmonds is said to have told his congregation the "true believer" was impervious to the bite of reptiles, and invited nonbelievers to bring poisonous snakes to the services. A copperhead was captured and taken to the meeting. William Edmonds and the minister were bitten and immediately became ill. William Edmonds, physicians said, will die.

MAY BE NECESSARY TO POSTPONE COUNTY FAIR

If State Health Adheres to Ruling.

IT'S ALL BECAUSE OF THAT COMFORT STATION

Bids for Which Are Rejected. Thirty Days To Readvertise.

Marion county's fair, scheduled for September 20, 21, 22 and 23, may have to be postponed if the state board of health adheres strictly to its ruling that a comfort station must be constructed at the fairground or the fair can not be held.

This condition has grown out of the necessity for rejecting the bids for the comfort station because they were above the estimate and the readvertising of the work. According to law this advertisement must be carried thirty days before bids can be opened, making September 6 the earliest date a contract can be awarded, providing the bids are below the estimate.

Should a contract be awarded immediately following the opening of the bids it almost seems impossible that the work required to construct the comfort station can be completed in the time intervening between the awarding of the contract and the opening of the fair, which gives the contractor only eleven working days September 7 to 19 inclusive.

What Plan.

Plans provide for the construction of the station under a portion of the grandstand at the fairground, the entire enclosure to be sixty-three by twenty feet. Approximately twenty feet of concrete sidewalk must be built, in addition to a front wall sixty-three feet long, including door space. Twenty-four toilets, eight urinals, four lavatories and two drinking fountains must be placed, the necessary plumbing for these fixtures installed, a concrete floor laid, partitions erected and painting done.

In addition to this work, a sanitary sewer must be constructed from Fairground street to the comfort station, a distance of 310 feet, the water main will have to be extended thirty feet, the electric line extended approximately fifty feet and the necessary wiring done and fixtures installed to illuminate the station.

When bids for the construction of the station were opened by the county commissioners Thursday it was found that all of them were above the architect's estimate of $4,900 for the work. J. W. Harruff submitted a bid of $5,107.73, E. B. Zachman, $6,735, and E. R. Barnthouse, $7,156.49.

On account of a provision of law prohibiting the awarding of a contract on a bid higher than the estimate, the commissioners had to reject all of these bids and readvertise the project. The estimate for the work, including the architecteural fees, is $5,145.

Making a Probe.

Cleveland, Aug. 9.—Charges that liquor seized in two raids recently has been stolen by members of the Cleveland Heights police department will be probed at a special meeting of the Heights council, Wednesday night, it was announced today. The charges are sponsored by W. D. Jones, state prohibition inspector and George C. Southwell, secretary of the Dry Maintenance league.

Seeking To Recess.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The administration is hopeful that congress can sufficiently finish its work of taxation and tariff by September 30 to be able to recess until the regular session in December, it was stated at the White House this afternoon.

MAIL LINER IS ON ROCKS TODAY

San Jose Wrecked 500 Miles from San Diego.

PASSENERS TAKEN FROM SHIP SAFELY

Loss of Ship Is Feared—Cargo Is Being Cast Overboard by the Crew.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—Thirty-three passengers on board the Pacific liner, San Jose, which went aground on San Pablo reef, off Ascension island, on the Mexican coast, 500 miles south of San Diego, were today transferred from the stricken vessel to land, according to wireless advices to the Pacific mail office here.

The ship's crew of sixty-six men is remaining on the vessel and the cargo from two of her holds is being jettisoned in an effort to keep the vessel afloat until the steamer, Griffdee, which is rushing to her assistance, reaches Ascunison Island.

The fact that the passengers were ordered ashore was taken to indicate that there was considerable danger of the San José sinking.

Strikes a Reef.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—Wireless advices received, early today, by the United States naval radio station on Yerba Buena island, reported that the Pacific mail liner, San Jose with 100 passengers and crew, struck and grounded on San Pablo reef, 500 miles south of San Diego.

One message from the San Jose said: "Ship in immediate danger. Any ship please come to rescue."

A message from Captain Zastrout of the San Jose said: "Holding our O K I guess."

The San Diego wireless station asked if the San Jose was sinking. The answer came "no, but have big list. Think struck reef."

The steamship, Griffdee, the only ship within 100 miles, has gone to the rescue, according to word received here early today. The San Jose left Salina Cruz, Mexico, August 1 and was due in San Francisco August 12. She is 2,135 tons.

The latest message received today from the San Jose, said: "Resting easily now. No panic aboard."

Drifting Helpless.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—Wireless advices to the chamber of commerce, today, reported that the steamship, Multnomah, is drifting helpless fifty miles west of Blunt's reef lightship, as a result of a smashed propeller and a broken tail shaft.

Assistance is being rushed to the disabled ship. She carries a crew of between fifteen and twenty and generally has about twenty passengers on board.

BIG REDUCTION IN EXPENSES OF STATE

Number of State Offices Reduced by Governor.

Columbus, Aug. 9.—Reduction in the number of state officers and employes, with a saving of over $120,000, this year, over 1920, is one result of the first month's operation of the state government as reorganized under the Dunn act which became operative July 1, according to a report submitted to Governor Davis by State Finance Director Waite, made public today.

Salary economies pointed out in Director Waite's report either have been put into effect or are about to be inaugurated. Director Waite stated that they represent savings due wholly to reductions in personnel, made possible through combination and systemization of work. "It shows the beginning of a culling-out process of unnecessary state employes that is to continue until every position on the state payroll yields to Ohio a return of full service for every dollar of expense involved," declared Governor Davis. "I have instructed every department to proceed along these lines and I confidently expect large additional reductions from time to time, as business methods are injected to still larger extent into the departmental activities."

Director Waite's report also points to a large prospective saving in traveling expenses of state inspectors attached to various departments.

On Way to Frontier.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The Americans who were imprisoned in soviet jails in Moscow have been released and now are on their way to the frontier, according to official advices reaching the state department today, from its agents at Riga and Reval. The Americans are expected to reach Hamburg this evening, the advices stated.

Cars Are Stoned.

Dayton, Aug. 9.—Stoning of street cars, on strike lines, has increased so that City Prosecutor McKee, today, recommended and had all such cases sent to the grand jury. Eighteen private detectives in the car line's employ have been sworn in. Police get $100 reward for every arrest for stoning and ... collected twice this week.

GOVERNOR AND CABINET MEET

Decision Reached as to Bureau of Markets.

PUBLIC SESSION OF STATE OFFICERS

Options Taken on Ground To Enlarge State Fairgrounds To Be Allowed To Expire.

Columbus, Aug. 9.—Decision to place activities of the bureau of markets, in the state agricultural department, on a 100-per-cent. basis immediately, was reached at a public session of Governor Davis' cabinet today.

Although legislated out of existence by the Dunn act, providing for reorganization of state departments, effective July 1, last, the bureau has continued operations on a small scale. Its rehabilitation will be effected through a transfer of funds within the agricultural department, it was announced.

On recommendation of Director of Agriculture Taber, the cabinet approved a recommendation that options taken by the state department of agriculture early this year on a large number of tracts of land adjoining the state fairgrounds be permitted to expire, or be rejected, on the grounds that owners ask excessive prices for the properties. Approval was given to the recomendation made by a committee of Columbus real estate men, representing the Columbus chamber of commerce, that the state employ a committee of realtors to place a valuation on these properties which could be defended in legal proceedings of condemnation with a view to enlarging the size of the state fairgrounds.

The cabinet turned down a request presented orally by members of the Delaware county board of commissioners with the members of the state highway department to improve with bituminous macadam 1.17 miles of the Delaware-Marysville road be changed and that the paving block be used. Cabinet members pointed out that the paving would cost $44,600 as against $32,150 for bituminous macadam.

Finance Director Waite informed fellow cabinet members that he will confer with them at a special meeting to be held early next month, for the purpose of deciding upon further reductions of unnecessary state employes and to eliminate duplication of service.

AN ENTIRE TRAIN CONSUMED BY FIRE

Seven Persons Injured in Wreck Near Houston, Texas.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 9.—Flames consuming the wreck of an entire Gulf Coast line freight train, including thirteen cars of oil and gasoline at a trestle twenty miles east of DeQuincy, Louisiana, were still burning today, it was stated at the general offices of the road here.

Seven persons are known to have been injured when fast freight, No. 32, Houston to New Orleans, was wrecked and caught fire.

The flames from the burning oil and gasolene were of such intense heat that nothing could be done towards salvaging any part of the train or the trestle.

The cause of the smashup has not been learned. According to officials of the road, the train was running about twenty-five miles an hour. A car of gasolene became derailed. As the train struck the trestle, the gas car "buckled." Seventeen cars were derailed and plunged off the 350-foot bridge into Clear creek. Fire broke out immediately. Unconfirmed reports at first said fifteen unauthorized persons riding on the train perished in the crash and flames that followed.

FARMS IMPOVERISHED THROUGHOUT STATE

Lower Freight Rates Sought on Limestone for Soil.

Columbus, Aug. 9.—Steady impoverishment of the soils of Ohio is now going on and will continue if freight rates on agricultural limestone are not decreased, according to Harry F. Denig, traffic specialist of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, in the petition which was presented to the auxiliary committee of the Central Freight association at Chicago, in behalf of the farmers of Ohio. Federation officials expressed their belief that low rates will be granted.

Exhaustive figures were presented to the association to show that farmers of Ohio are discriminated against by the limestone freight rates in favor of the farmers of Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. The representatives sought to show that the rates between Ohio points should be decreased approximately 30 to 50 per cent.

WAR SECRETARY BACK TO OUT

Prepared To Take Up Muscle Shoals Proposal.

CONFERENCE WITH FORD IS COMIN

War Department Finds Ford Proposal Only One Submitted Worthy of Consideration.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Secretary of War Weeks returned, today, to his desk from a vacation in New England, prepared to give favorable consideration to the offer of Henry Ford for the government nitrate plate at Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

While the secretary [illegible] the harness today, it was with the conviction that if business is to be done in the Muscle Shoals project it must be done with Ford, as no other noteworthy offer has been received.

War department officials have practically given up the idea that the Dupont company intends to make an offer for the Alabama plant. They have been in communication with the Dupont people and have let it be known that they would welcome such an offer, but the powder company officials have made it plain that they are not in the market for such an ambitious an enterprise as that at Muscle Shoals.

In some minor respects, the Ford offer is not satisfactory to Secretary Weeks, though its acceptance has been recommended by Major General Beach, chief of engineers and chief technical advisor to the secretary, in this matter. In the first place, it is promised upon a definite horse-power production from the Wilson dam. Owing to the fact that the flow of the Tennessee river is irregular, the war department is unwilling to make a contract based upon an arbitrary estimate of the possibilities of the dam. It is believed, however, that Ford will be willing to alter his proposal upon a basis of actual power production of the completed dam and this would undoubtedly be satisfactory to Secretary Weeks.

The next important development in the case, it was stated today, will be a conference between Secretary Weeks and Mr. Ford, at which the offer and other details of the offer are expected to be satisfactorily adjusted.

Tentative Plans.

Washington, Aug. 9.—According to present tentative plans of the administration, the American delegation which will sit in the conference on disarmament in Washington, next November, will be composed of not more than five or six persons and it is probable that there will be a woman member of the delegation. This plan is wholly tentative and subject to such modification as developments between now and November 11 may make desirable.

Searching of Automobiles.

Cleveland, Aug. 9.—The police have no right to search an automobile without a warrant, Judge Walter McMahon so held here. He said that two men who had pleaded guilty to the charge of transporting liquor would have been discharged by him notwithstanding the testimony of the police, had they pleaded not guilty. At it was, the court fined each $2... and costs and suspended $90 of the fine.

Race Clash In State Prison.

Messenger Robbed of $10,000.

According to R. J. Pennell, Who Visits Bellefontaine.

R. J. Pennell, chief deputy of the Ohio prohibition commissioner, was in Bellefontaine, Monday, on business and he took occasion to compliment the local officers, says Monday's Bellefontaine Examiner.

"We have found that the county officials, the sheriff and prosecuting attorney are performing their duties and that the only bad condition within the county exists at some points at Indian Lake park," said Mr. Pennell.

It was Inspector Pennell, who recently made an investigation at Mt. Victory and caused a number of Mt. Victory citizens to be called before him to tell what they knew regarding alleged violations of the prohibition laws in that village.

GET LICENSE NUMBER OF THE NEXT ROAD HOG

And See That He's Prosecuted. Law To Do It.

Road hogs constitute one of the greatest menaces to public safety in Ohio, says Monday's Columbus Citizen.

Columbus drivers are well acquainted with them. They are met everywhere. In fact many of the accidents are caused when a safe motorist is crowded off the highway and into a ditch by this representative of the swine family.

The Ohio motor vehicle laws, you may be surprised to learn, provide a penalty for the road hog.

Section 103, volume 556, provides that:

"Any person or persons driving any vehicle on any public road, who shall fail, in meeting or passing, to give the required road as herein stated—one-half the highway—shall be subject to a fine, in a court having jurisdiction thereof, in any sum not less than one dollar, nor more than ten dollars, and costs of prosecution."

Columbus motorists can help drive the road hog from Franklin county roads by taking his license number and reporting him to justices of the peace and pushing prosecution.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick, Director of Press

State Information Bureau.

Every state federation ought to have a bureau of information and a competent director of information.

That is the opinion of Miss Lida Hafford, director of General federation headquarters, Maryland building, Washington. She has been forced to such a conclusion by the overwhelming flood of inquiries from all corners of the nation. Her decision is due to the fact that the General federation has grown to a mammoth organization and much of the work now demanded of the national director of information must necessarily be shifted to state federations, if the information department is to remain a painstaking, efficient operative part of federation work. It is conceded that there must be a superlative efficiency and that there must be no let down in the high standard of information imparted to the thousands of enthusiastic forward-looking club women constantly seeking it.

Miss Hafford no longer is able, with her corps of assistants, promptly to meet the demands satisfactorily to herself, though glad at any time to send all the information she can to clubs asking for it. Miss Hafford says that much of her office work as director of general headquarters should be directed as quickly as possible by the state federations. In Ohio, for example, with a state director of information, clippings, programs, miscellaneous data; in fact, material of all kinds, would become almost immediately available to clubs, the members of which now frequently are at a loss to know where to write for information.

Miss Hafford announces that she will welcome the despatch to her office all club year books and programs for her files.

Elyria in Spotlight.

Elyria club women are in the spotlight of the news of women's activities because of the notable things in club work they have accomplished and have under contemplation. Their program of endeavor covers the drafting of a new street railway franchise to serving for the crippled children of the Gates hospital.

The Woman's Civic club of Elyria was organized May 2, 19[illegible]. It now has a membership of 2[illegible], with departmental sections, each department holding monthly meetings. One of the outstanding features of this club's work is found in the organization of an automobile relief corps for use of nurses to convey cripples to and from the Gates Hospital for Crippled Children. It helped to organize a child welfare department for the Elyria W. C. T. U. The civics department had for its study subject this year "Making a City" and its motto was "Know Your City." Members served with the Elyria Chamber of Commerce for city planning, parks, a new library and civic center planning. One member is a member of the board of health and club members study the year round how best to assist the public health nurse.

The chief aim of the educational department for several years has been its scholarship fund. This department has now loaned money to one girl at Ohio Wesleyan university and hopes next year to have two or more girl students. The Woman's Civic club is maintaining two libraries, one at Memorial hospital, the other at Western Heights settlement house.

The home economics department diligently is applying its energy to studied improvement and the political science department is attracting city wide attention. Beginning with a public demonstration for the victory of women's suffrage in Central park, it is now taking up the study of citizenship, treating on nation, state and local government.

Mrs. North, who was a native of Prof... a chorus girl in Weber & Fields' Third-Whirl at the time of the silk-hat episode, was the third wife of McQuaide who rose to the presidency of the National Conduit and Cable company. She sought a permanent injunction to restrain Howard S. It is understood she will ... she would ... to contest the fund of $42,000. Justice Martin ruled that McQuaide's instructions must be carried out.

VETERAN UPSET BY MERE BOY IN TENNIS TOURNEY

RICHARD SCOTT SHOWS STRENGTH IN SINGLES

Plays Staight Tennnis and Makes No Attempt at Fancy Play—Other Matches.

A surprise extraordinary and general upset in dope occurred yesterday afternoon in the first round of the Clark cup tennis singles tournament at the Marion Tennis club courts.

Richard Scott fifteen-year-old son of Mr and Mrs Thomas H Scott of east Center street and runner-up in this season's preliminary tournament defeated T R Allen veteran twice champion of the club and three times runner up.

Allen's defeat came as a big surprise to local fans as it was the general opinion that he would be the man to meet Howard R Stoll in the challenge round but old blood surrendered to new, and the young hopeful came through with set scores of 6-1 4 6 7 5.

Not Flashy Exhibition.

Both players were up to form but the match was not a flashy exhibition of brilliant tennis but rather an uninteresting match in which both contestants displayed only straight tennis driving the ball back and forth over the net many times before either could gain a point.

The last set however was one of interest Scott taking four straight games at the start of the set Allen retaliated and took four games from his younger opponent Scott, in the next game was within two points of the match and lost the advantage Many thought at this time that Allen would take the match, but the dogged, determined and careful playing of Scott won the score back to deuce and then carried him across with two games and the match.

Scott Plays Straight Tennis.

The story of Scott's victory is nothing more than the explanation of the youthful players style of game He is an extremely good getter who plays straight tennis with such a plugging and man with a purpose attitude that he overcomes classier opponents by sheer determination and consistency.

Three other first round matches were played and resulted in the following victories

J Hane defeated Wickler 3-6 6 2, 6-2, Simpson defeated Kliemaier, 6-1 6-4, Jones defeated Weeks 6-4, 6-0

THE HUB OF COMMERCE.

Daily Proverb—"The courteous learns his courtesy from the discourteous."

Everybody in the habit of suffering from hay fever may prepare to have it now.

Possibly the best way to achieve prohibition would be to encourage home brewing. One of two brews should be sufficient to effect a cure.

"Getting Gertie's Garter" is a recent Broadway production. More stage elevation!

If we get the concensus of paragraphic opinion, the hardest thing to understand these days is why so many people who patronize soft drink places come away with hard breaths.

In a word, that eastern candy maker has been using seven-cent sugar and charging thirty-two cent sugar prices.

There's nothing about Henry Ford's offer of $5,000,000 to the government for a $50,000,000 nitrate plant to oppose the view that Henry has the makings of real financier.

Why should we worry over another tax on tobacco? During the last few years we have learned to get along without it

Somebody suggests that the profiteers may be made to disgorge their excess profits. Go to it. That's the only way we ever will be able to recover from the fellows who have been charging us a dollar an hour for mowing our lawn.

"If you are interested in the school bond issue," says the Bucyrus Telegraph, "you ought to go to the new high school and inspect it before you vote yes or no on the matter." Wonder why the Telegraph is trying to queer the proposed issue.

SOMETHING BEYOND MATERIAL THINGS.

Like the four reformers in Robert Louis Stevenson's fable who sat beside the bramble bush to discuss plans for reforming the world, so three American inventors sat recently on a bank of a mountain brook in West Virginia and talked of many things

In one respect the two gatherings were alike. In both cases the flow of reason ran abruptly into a hole in the ground, at least the discussion did not end in any illuminating conclusion. In the fable, after suggesting that various things ought to be abolished, among them the Bible and work and finally the human race, the four reformers went home to leave the world unreformed. In similar manner our three great wizards, respectively of automobiles and electricity and rubber tires, ran head on into an obstacle in their talk of reform.

As a final conclusion to speculations on whether war could be abolished and how it might be done and who would oppose it, Mr. Edison said: "The motives of men are unfathomable." To which Mr. Ford is said to have replied: "Humph, you said it." From which it might be assumed that the maker of motor cars agreed with the previous speaker. And since Mr. Firestone ventured no contradictory remark, it is reasonable to suppose that all three of these citizens were in agreement on this proposition.

And indeed they may well be; for on this fact there is universal agreement among intelligent men the world over. We should have an easy time of it if peace and happiness and social progress depended only on making motor cars and rubber tires and phonographs. We could then go ahead and manufacture such things in increasing quantities to the end of the world. And if men wanted no more than these material things they would be happy beyond description. For we can make them now faster than they can be used up

But men and women want some things that are not material They want security against oppression of all kinds, political and economic; they want release from the fear of ever-recurring periods of unemployment, they want the assurance of being able to bring up their children to a higher standard of living than the world held out for the parents; they want education the better to understand their duties and enjoy their privileges.

Perhaps if we gave as much attention to the understanding and satisfying of these wants as we do to the making of more material things, human motives might seem less unfathomable to us.

WHAT WE MAY EXPECT

BUSINESSLIKE METHODS.

Skeptics who are wondering whether the administration's new budget system will prove as effective as predicted should be reminded that Director Dawes has already put one important reform into action that is bound to result in immense savings to the government. It is the plan for coordinating sales of surplus government property and the purchase of supplies by the departments. It establishes at Washington a general coordinator of sales and purchases

The country is divided into nine regions corresponding to the army corps areas, each in charge of a coordinator who reports only to his chief at the capital. If a federal building were being erected anywhere under the old plan, the materials were bought in the open market without regard to possible supplies under the control of some other executive department. According to the new system, the coordinator at Washington will have classified inventories of the surplus material belonging to the shipping board, the navy and war departments and other branches of the public service and will utilize them wherever possible

After the armistice, the war department sold immense quantities of army shoes to dealers and speculators at far below cost at the very time when the navy department was letting contracts for new shoes. The navy department has bought machinery and marine equipment for new vessels when the shipping board had a lot of these supplies on hand that it did not know what to do with. During the war it was a frequent occurrence to find the executive departments bidding against each other for the same sort of supplies, with the inevitable result of boosting prices. It was merely an illustration on a larger scale of what had taken place in time of peace.

No private concern could keep out of the hands of a receiver very long with such haphazard management. In putting "more business into government" the administration is living up to its promises.

The remarkable phase of the fact that the cost of giraffes is going up is that giraffes in no way figure in the publishing business.

The paragrapher of the Cincinnati Enquirer says that "false names have been outlawed in Ohio." Still there are people who will try to work 'em off attached to communications to the newspapers because they lack the courage to use their own.

Des Moines is tiring of its city-manager plan and is preparing to junk it. One by one the cities are discovering that good city government is not the result of any particular plan. The quality of the men making up the city government is what counts.

At this distance, it hardly looks safe to us for Chairman Lasker to hold that he can put our shipping on a paying basis. There's never any telling when another concealed deficit may bob up.

"I have about reached the conclusion," remarked the fellow that lives next door on the way down town this morning "that the fellow who uses one of those elongated cigaret holders prefers the taste of smoke to that of tobacco"

"Next week the Indiana sweethearts will be with us," observed the restaurant philosopher at luncheon today, "and to lovers of real watermelons life will once more become one glad, sweet song."

There are a lot of Americans to whom Lord Northcliffe didn't endear himself any by talking about the ease with which booze may be secured in the United States and now offering so much as a marginal note on a blue print to show how it can be done.

The people who can not understand why the farmer can not make big money producing milk, probably do not realize that the man on the delivery route makes from $30 to $75 a week and that ther must be some profit to the company that sees out to the country to collect it and bring it to market.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By Dr. James Ball Naylor.]

"WHO IS TO BLAME?"

John W. Weeks, secretary of war, addressing the graduating class of Tufts college, a short time ago, said:

"The present administration is most desirous to have disarmament as far as it is safe to go. But we must ask that we be the judges of just what this degree is. For we have information which we can not divulge, obtained in a reliable and complete manner, which makes us the only competent judges When we see nations preparing for war, making greater preparations in time of peace than during the war, we must sit up and take notice. England is at war France is at war, and many foreign nations are in conflict and is it not time for us to make a move for everlasting peace."

And then the editor of the Zanesville Signal, strenuously opposed to everything our national administration does or proposes to do, replies to Secretary Week's utterance, in an editorial headed "Who's to Blame?"

Who's to blame—for what?
For England being at war?
Not the United States, surely.
For France being at war?
Not America, in all conscience

For the threat of war, at which Secretary Weeks more than hints, which may compel us to fight for our own rights and safety?

America isn't doing anything to invite a war.

Yet the editor of the Zanesville Signal, commenting upon the "secret information" Secretary Weeks mentions, says:

"In substance, this secret information is undoubtedly to the effect that Japan is preparing for war, and, as every one knows it, it isn't a secret after all"

How does the Signal editor know that Secretary Weeks' "secret information" has reference to Japan and her designs and activities? He doesn't know anything of the kind. He simply surmises; and then heralds his surmises as facts. And suppose Japan is preparing for war, what does the Signal man know of her intents and purposes in thus preparing? Nothing, whatever. Secretary Weeks may know; probably does know But he isn't saying—for the very good reason that such secret information can not safely be divulged; and he says so But the editor of the Signal jumps to the conclusion that Japan is preparing for war simply because the United States is bent upon keeping an army and navy commensurate with its needs. He says:

"But, really, Japan can not be blamed for going along in the race the best she can, for the United States has not halted in its big program of naval armament adopted during the World war It has been arming, just as fast as Japan, and somewhat faster. In other words, the United States and Japan are in a race of armament for a war that each expects may come."

Has the Japanese government any reason to suspect that the United States designs to force a war between the two nations? None, whatever. Has the American government cause to suspect that Japan has ulterior purposes in mind—purposes which, if put into effect, would break the peace existing between the two people? I don't know, the editor of the Zanesville Signal doesn't know; but our navy and war departments probably know

Let's leave the question where it belongs.

FROM OUR READERS

Another View.

Editor Star. M. B. Chase in his letter seems to have things confused. Please give me space in trying to help him out. In the first place, he has not touched the point at issue in the case of Governor Len Small. The question is not why he is not arrested, for this is not far to seek, but why is he still governor? This is not a question of law, but order. Should impeachment come first or trial? I hope my friend does not contend that a man guilty as charged is fit to act as governor of any state again By the same law of logic, if we have a right as a sovereign people to call in question the acts of a governor, we have the right to call in question the acts of a judge. This case seems to me where a judge went wrong, instead of submitting the testimony to the proper authorities and having him impeached and then tried he got things backwards and this means confusion and not law or order.

I presume you read that judge's decision. I do not know what others thought but I considered it the silliest thing that ever fell from a judge's lips. Imagine, if you please, a company of men having a grudge against any prominent citizen away from home, bringing a charge of bootlegging against him and our mayor issuing a warrant for his arrest to be brought back here to stand trial. This is too ridiculous for ridicule itself So in case of a governor or president there is a proper method of procedure and an improper one, and this is a case of a very improper one. We do not say a governor can not do wrong, but when he commits a crime sufficient for arrest and conviction he is no longer fit for that office.

Yours truly,
T. J. WARRICK.

DON BAXTER, LIMA, IS WINNER OF MAIN BOUT

Gets Decision Over Battling Michaud by Points.

THOUGH MANY THINK THE FIGHT IS A DRAW

Al Corbett, Hurt in Cleveland, Can't Come—Plenty of Boxing

The boxing show staged under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus at Lincoln park Monday night, attracted one of the largest crowds that has attended an entertainment of this kind. In addition to this it was an orderly crowd the fans staying within bounds of the rules of the boxing commission in giving vent to their enthusiasm.

Al Corbett of Cleveland, who was scheduled to meet Don Baxter of Lima in the main go of twelve rounds suffered an accident while training for the bout Saturday, and was unable to go on. The management was fortunate in securing Battling Michaud of Boston to substitute for Corbett. Baxter weighed in at 116 pounds and his opponent was three and one-half pounds heavier.

Goes the Limit.

The fighters were well matched and the bout went the limit. At times the milling was fast with Michaud forcing the fighting most of the rounds being even. Both fighters missed their hardest swings and in only the fourth round were any hard blows landed. In this round Michaud demonstrated his ability to take much punishment and Baxter landed several hard body blows and a succession of hard raps to the face and neck, after rushing his opponent to the ropes. To the fans it looked like the finish was in sight, but Michaud was fresh at the end of the round and ran to his corner with a smile.

Michaud had a slight shade in the sixth and seventh rounds while Baxter took the eighth by a margin. The last four rounds were even breaks neither landing any effective blows. Both were apparently going strong at the finish but lacked steam in their punches. The judges awarded the decision to Baxter as a result of his work in the fourth round while many fans declared it was a draw.

Haymaker Stops It.

The semi final bout between Johnny Gerry of Marion and Paddy Phelan, of Lima which was scheduled for ten rounds ended late in the second round when Gerry landed a haymaker to the jaw. Gerry showed much improvement since his last fight and although his opponent was three pounds heavier, Gerry demonstrated some real class and made his punches count.

The local boy strated to force the fighting at the sound of the gong and landed some hard blows in the first round flooring Phelan twice. Phelan came back strong in the second round and landed hard to Gerry's body several times and once to the head. This latter blow caused Gerry to fight harder and after a few light exchanges, Gerry swung his right with great force to Phelan's jaw and the latter went down. At the count of six he made an effort to get up but on reaching his knees dropped back and had to be assisted to his corner.

What promised to be one of the best bouts of the evening was between 'Red' Sheehe, of Galion, and Tommy Burns, of Lima. This was scheduled for eight rounds, but came to a sudden end near the close of the first round as a result of an accidental foul. Burns fought Sheehe into the ropes and the fighters clinched. Sheehe then notified the referee and the bout was stopped for an examination, it developing that Sheehe probably was struck by Burns knee or hip in an accidental manner. This was much regretted by the fans and Burns, who is classed as one of the cleanest fighters in the game. Sheehe was awarded the decision.

Four-Round Preliminary.

In the four round preliminary between Indian Holland of Lima and Corkey Jones of Marion, the judges awarded Jones the decision as a result of Holland going down in the first round. Holland forced the fighting and was wearing Jones down with body punches the latter not being in training while Holland was in fine shape and could have continued longer while Jones was ready to stop at the end of the third round.

The Herring twins of Van Wert gave a four-round boxing exhibition that was exciting. The youngsters have been in the game since the were five years old and are improving rapidly. They each weigh about 100 pounds and put up a real battle. No decision was given in this bout the fans giving it as a draw.

The Best Lens---And Why.

With or without a lens, the greater the candlepower of the bulb, the stronger the light. Most people do not want their light limited.

A lens is technically "legal"—even if the tests prohibit it except with weak bulbs and with headlamps tilted down. The Shaler Roadlighter Lens is the only lens that may be used in every state with maximum candlepower bulbs and headlamps level. (Don't be misled by claims of mere legality. Almost any lens is legal—but you want light as well as legality.)

Besides this the Shaler improves your driving light—makes it more intense far ahead and spreads it the full width of the road. You have the sensation of driving by daylight.

It protects you against the glaring lights you meet because the waste, or illegal glare rays, are focused down on the edges of the road, giving the effect of a pair of spotlights in addition to regular headlamps. Positively no other lens can give you this protection.

THE SHALER IS DIFFERENT FROM DIMMING LENSES

Users who have installed Shaler Roadlighters recognize the value to themselves of better driving light—protection against other people's glaring lights—daytime safety at night.

WE GUARANTEE.

1. A distance light at least equal to what you would get from plain glass.

2. Illumination of edges of road so brightly that you are protected against other people's glare.

3. Light clear to the fences for 100 feet ahead.

4. Compliance with the law in any state.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste.

It's Camels for you.

BASEBALL

Tagging the Bases.

Summary of the White Sox game with four hits in the first round, but Hoyt was touched up for nine and a defeat in the second encounter with the Yanks.

The ninth break was a rule in New York as the Indians rammed Phil Douglas twice and regained the league lead.

Everett Scott made a home run inside the grounds at Fenway Park with Meusel on base. It was Boston's eighth win out of ten with Detroit.

Seventeen hits off Kaufman, Morris and Harwell gave the Senators an easy victory over St. Louis.

Meusel's double in the ninth inning and four hits gave the Cards a victory against the Reds.

Joe Whitehill got no support from the Phillies and the Reds took both games with ease.

The Dodgers are having life miserable for Pittsburg. Grimes did a bit of World Series pitching in stopping the Pirates down at Brooklyn.

WITH THE PUGS

Ricard Wins.

Dayton, Aug. 9—Rocky Richards, Dayton, last night at Triangle park, had little trouble in disposing of Willie Kohler, Brooklyn, by a knockout in the second round of a fifteen-round fight. A right to the jaw did it.

Boxer Released.

Columbus, Aug. 9—Following Coroner Murphy's verdict that the death of Earl Welch, twenty, whose skull was fractured in a fall while boxing here with Harold Myers, was accidental the police liberated young Myers who was held several days pending the coroner's probe. Welch and Myers were principals in an amateur bout, last Thursday night, when Welch was fatally hurt. Welch never regained consciousness.

VEIOCK ON SPORTS

New York, Aug. 9—Babe Ruth's chances of shattering the home run records are just as great as ever.

The "big bambino" has been off his batting pace with the bat during the last few days and if he can get up he will crack the 1921 mark as late as he can by right and left-handed pitching.

Ruth's two homers, Monday off Wilkinson and Kerr, of the White Sox, make it even with his 1920 total and he can not fall behind again until August 14, the date of his forty-second homer last year, made off Shaw at Washington.

With five days to go, it appears to be certain that Ruth will keep up with his record and even though he fails there is better than an even chance that he will forge ahead of the king run, for in 1920 his forty-fifth and forty-sixth homers were not made until September 4, off Jones and Bush, in Boston.

During the next two weeks, the Yanks will be up against pitching that Ruth should be able to nick for some runs. New York will play the Athletics, Browns and White Sox, in the order named, after leaving the Polo grounds and if Ruth fails to keep even or ahead of his 1920 record, he will have to fall into a slump.

The batting of the big left-hander, in a season, has been as clean as ever. He does not seem to care what kind of pitching he goes up against. He hits right and left-handed pitchers with equal ease and if anything, he is getting more distance out of his hits than ever before.

Kill His Brother.

Philadelphia, Aug 9—Ralph and Norman Penrose, said to be the sons of a retired Doylestown farmer, engaged in a quarrel in a boarding house at Elkins, near here, yesterday, which resulted in the shooting and killing of Ralph. According to witnesses, both men entered a room in the boarding-house quarreling and some blows were struck, then suddenly Norman drew a revolver and shot his brother, killing him instantly.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY'S PAINTS.

BY HOWARD R. GARIS.

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

"Do you know what day it is to-morrow, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Dottie Flufftail, the little lamb girl, as she skipped over the grass on the front lawn of the hollow stump bungalow, one morning.

"What day to-morrow? Let me see!" spoke Mr. Longears, slowly and reflective like. "Why, it's Baking Day!" he exclaimed as he looked at the arrow on Grandpa Goosey's barn to see which way the wind was blowing. "It's Baking Day, and Nurse Jane is going to make a chocolate shortcake—she told me so."

"Yes, of course. Wednesday is always Baking Day in your bungalow, when on Dottie. "But I didn't mean that. It's another day, too. It's going to be my birthday!"

"No! Is it, really?" exclaimed the bunny. "I'm so glad, Dottie! Congratulations! Many happy returns and all that sort of thing, you know!"

"It will be time enough to wish me that tomorrow," bleated the lamb girl. "And I will be very happy if I get what I want."

"And what may that be?" Uncle Wiggily asked.

"A box of paints so I may paint pictures," was the reply.

"Oh, I guess you'll get a box of paints," said the bunny uncle.

"But, mind you, they must be a surprise!" exclaimed Dottie. "Things you get for your birthday aren't nice unless they're a surprise."

"Oh, of course, the paints must be a surprise!" agreed Uncle Wiggily. "Certainly, of course, yes!"

Then Dottie skipped away, and putting his nose on his head and twinkling his tail, silk hat off hopped the bunny uncle. "What's that? Something wrong. Oh, I see what you mean. I have his nose mixed up with his hat, haven't I? Well, now that we're all right. I'll begin over.

Anyhow, Uncle Wiggily hopped to the toy store and there he bought the largest and finest box of paints to be had.

Of course I'm not saying for whom the paints were intended. You'll have to guess that part for yourselves.

But, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through the woods, on his way back to his hollow stump bungalow, he couldn't help stopping to open the box of paints and look at them.

"They're certainly a beautiful set of colors," said Uncle Wiggily. "I hope——"

But just then he heard a rustling in the bushes and he looked up in time to see Nurse Jane and Dottie Flufftail coming toward him.

"Oh, what lovely paints!" bleated Dottie, before Uncle Wiggily could hide them. "Whose are they?"

"Mine, of course!" answered Mr. Longears. "Whose else would they be?"

"Well, I thought maybe—seeing tomorrow is my birthday," began Dottie when Nurse Jane cried:

"Wiggy, you don't mean to tell me at your age, that you have gone and bought a box of children's toy paints?"

"That's what I've gone and done," said Uncle Wiggily. "Why shouldn't I buy paints?" he boldly asked. "I may want to paint our bungalow sky blue pink."

"With little toy paints and brushes like that? Nonsense!" cried Nurse Jane. "I believe, Wiggy, you bought those paints for——"

"Hush!" suddenly cried Mr. Longears. "I think I hear some one coming!"

And, surely enough, there was another rustling in the bushes, and out popped the bad old Blue Nosed Babboon.

"Oh, what a lucky day for me!" howled the Blue Nosed Babboon. "I'm going to nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears and Nurse Jane's and Dottie's! Hurray!"

"You're going to do nothing of the sort!" bravely cried the bunny gentleman. If only his ears had been in danger he might not have been so bold but he wasn't going to see Dottie's and Nurse Jane's ears nibbled. "You can't bite any ears today!" said Uncle Wiggily.

"Who will stop me?" howled the Blue Nosed chap.

"I will," cried the rabbit. "If you don't get right away from here I'll paint your blue nose red with my box of paints! Then where will you be? I'll paint your blue nose red that's what I'll do!"

"Oh please don't do that!" cried the Babboon as he saw Uncle Wiggily dip the brush in the red paint. "Anything but that! If my blue nose should be made red I couldn't stand it!" and away the Babboon hopped, not hurting any one at all.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, how lucky it was you had your paints with you!" bleated Dottie.

"Ho! ho!" laughed the bunny. "They aren't my paints. I bought them for your birthday, tomorrow, Dottie! But you may take them now!"

"Oh, thank you," bleated the lamb girl, and she was as surprised as anything for she didn't expect paints that day. So everything came out all right, you see, and I'm glad of it.

"I'll paint your blue nose red!"

ABOUT 400 ALIENS TO GAIN ADMISSION

Held Up at Ellis Island but May Enter Country.

Washington, Aug. 9.—About 400 aliens who have been held up at Ellis Island because the quota of the countries from which they came were exhausted, will be admitted to the United States and will be charged to the monthly quota late in the year, the department of labor decided, yesterday. This action was taken following a conference between representatives of the various steamship lines and immigration officials. The immigration bureau has exacted a promise from the steamship companies that they will limit their immigrant sailing list on the other side, to fifteen per cent. of the monthly quota, leaving five per cent. as the "shock absorber" to take up miscellaneous sailings.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edwins

I was feeling kinda bad before I got up this morning, because Younises wheel got busted and because I had killed the kittens and I have not got any long pants or mustash or anything. Vacation will be over next month and there is no telling how long it will be before I get long pants and get to be a pirut.

I got up and let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth and put on my short pants and was milking the cow and Jubilee was setting up with his mouth open and I was giving him a squirt once in a while, and the mother cat came in and sat up by the side of him and opened up her face and I gave her some too. She is a brite little bugger, but I do not think much of a cat that forgets her kitten as quick as her. I am no relation to them at all, but I have not forgotten them. I bet they was surprised one by one when they was sailing through the air like birds and the hat made them stop so sudden and start the other way.

I happened to think of my snake in the bran bin while I was milking and I went and lifted up the lid and looked for it but I did not see it so I put the cat in there and let the rd down and was going to milk again but when I turned around the cow had her foot in the pail. I took hold of the milk pail and then I bored my thumb in the cow's tender place and when she lifted her foot to kick I took the pail out of her way. She will have to be smarter than cows get to be before she can fool me.

When I had got her dotter milked I went and lifted up the lid to the bin and the cat come jumping out with the snake by the neck and it was dead. I will never know if it was a chicken snake or not now, but anyhow we do not keep chickens. I laid it on the floor and was trying to skin it but it would not hold still and my ant come out to see why I was so long milking and she took the milk pail in one hand and my ear in the other and we all went in the house together.

I had forgot to let go of the snake and my mother screamed, and then she said just for that I could take the cow to the pasture and come home and mind Annabell Lee all day. But Younise was there, she had come to bring home my castor oil and her mother said she might stay a while so she stayed all day and we played hide and seek.

It was her blind and I laid a broom acrosst the sistern and tied a rope to it and slid down it a ways and hollered "rescue!" but she was so long finding me that I slipped and fell in the sistern, but it was only up to my neck. I hollered but it was quite a while before I was found and then it was my mother that found me and she fainted, but Younise and me ant pulled me out and my mother made me go to bed and I did not get any supper and my father milked the cow. I am glad that is all he done.

Younise set on my bed and cut out paper dolls till she had to go home. When it got dark I pulled Jubilee up.

CARE AND REVERENCE FOR SOLDIER DEAD

Emphatic Denial of a Story from Newark, New Jersey.

Washington, Aug. 9.—With reference to the report from Newark, New Jersey, that the body of Private Silvino Buffanio, recently brought from France, was left unceremoniously on the doorstep of his father's home, the office of the quartermaster general which has charge of the return of the soldier dead, gave out this statement today:

"This body was escorted to the home of the father by a corporal and seven men.

"The father, mother, sister and person who appeared to be an undertaker were present.

"It was not possible to take the remains upstairs to the apartment of the father on the second floor as the stairs were narrow and winding.

"At the request of the undertaker who was apparently acting under instructions from the father the casket was taken out of the shipping case, the shipping case left on the front porch and the casket taken into the front hall.

"The Hoboken office of the quartermaster corps is in receipt of a letter from the father, stating that he was thoroughly satisfied and very much pleased with the way the soldiers handled the matter. He does not know the source of the report."

Major General H. L. Rogers, quartermaster general of the army, added to this:

"In view of the great care and reverence with which the bodies of our soldier dead are treated by the cemeterial division personnel, it is most regrettable that such an unjust statement should have been made. Relatives of the dead man from overseas have written innumerable letters of thanks for the loving care which our soldiers give their fallen comrades as they return them home. The public should know that everything is done to make the last journey what the families would wish it to be."

Gets Passport.

Paris, Aug. 9.—Frank Walsh, of Kansas City and New York, a Sinn Fein sympathizer, yesterday received a passport to visit England. The passport came direct from the British home office in London. It was understood Dudley Field Malone, former collector of the port of New York, had interceded for Walsh after the British government originally refused to grant the passport.
